Meritor Announces Appointment of Carl Anderson as Senior Vice President and Chief Financial Officer

TROY, Mich., (March 13, 2019) – Meritor, Inc. (NYSE: MTOR) today announced that Carl Anderson, group vice president, Finance, has been appointed senior vice president and chief financial officer, effective immediately. Anderson’s appointment follows Kevin Nowlan’s decision to resign from his role as senior vice president and president, Trailer and Components and chief financial officer to accept a chief financial officer position with another company to be announced in the near future. Joe Plomin is appointed senior vice president and president, Aftermarket & Industrial and Trailer, and will assume expanded responsibility for the Trailer and Components businesses.

Jay Craig, CEO and president, said, “I am confident that today’s appointments will ensure a seamless transition for all of Meritor’s stakeholders. Carl has been a key member of our organization for the last 13 years and we are fortunate to have someone of his caliber step into the CFO role. Additionally, Joe’s deep knowledge of our business makes him ideally positioned to take on the additional responsibility of leading our Trailer and Components businesses. With our deep bench, leading market positions and talented employees, Meritor is strongly positioned to continue driving value for our shareholders.”

Craig continued, “Kevin’s contributions over the years have helped position Meritor as a global leader with a strong platform for growth and value creation. We wish Kevin the best in his future endeavors as we remain focused on executing on our M2022 objectives.”

“As I prepare to start the next chapter of my career, I am grateful for my experience at Meritor and take great pride in the value we have created,” said Nowlan. “It has been a privilege to work alongside the company’s dedicated team, and I believe Meritor is well-positioned for continued success.”

About Carl Anderson

Carl Anderson has served as Meritor’s group vice president, Finance, since March 2018. In this position, he has responsibility for Treasury, Investor Relations, Mergers and Acquisitions, Corporate Real Estate, Operational Finance, Shared Services and Accounting.
